MOBILE LIFELINE SECURES BUSINESS TRAVELERS

A new partnership between Falck TravelCare and conTgo increases security for the global employee by combining travel and emergency assistance with intelligent technology.

Using detailed and validated trip information to register the geography of corporations' employees anywhere in the world, Falck TravelCare will use conTgo to track, locate and communicate through an intelligent 2-way alert function managed by Falck TravelCare's International Emergency Center, which is staffed and operates 24/7/365.

"Ash clouds and the Arab spring are some of the recent examples of how global factors may affect international companies who send their employees abroad. The partnership with conTgo increases our ability to support our clients' health, safety and security setup. Combining conTgo's unique technology with our pre-hospital expertise increases customer value", says Daniel Hummel, Commercial Director at Falck TravelCare.

International security network

ConTgo's intelligent mobile solution connects the employees directly with Falck TravelCare's International Emergency Center, which is staffed around the clock. The partnership will also see conTgo's technology used to send destination risk and security alerts instantly if the risk level changes at the destination.

"Our partnership with Falck TravelCare means that our technology is utilised to its full potential. Falck TravelCare is the traveler's lifeline, and if the security situation changes, speed of response through their worldwide network is mission critical to better assure safety", says Johnny Thorsen, CEO and co-founder of conTgo.
